The Liquor Act

The article regarding the liquor act which appears in another column in this issue, was set up before the government had taken any action regarding it.

Last Tuesday Premier Sifton announced that he would introduce legislation to amend the liquor act, to prohibit any householder having more than one quart of spirits and two gallons of malt liquor on his premises. Many other changes are also promised which will make the bill more effective. The changes promised will no doubt fully satisfy the demands of the temperance people.

The Canadian railways have announced an increase in freight rates of 2.5 per cent, to become effective April 25.

TOWN COUNCIL

The town council met last Friday and on Monday in connection with the application of Messrs. Fawcett and Frost, of Calgary, for a license for the local distillery. The suggested franchise was given over and a deal was struck on the same by H. C. Hinton was considered. Several objections were made and discussed in the presence of the council. The matter was finally referred to the committee on the same which the council will meet on Monday. The committee will be asked to report on the same.

THE ALBERTA HOSPITAL BILL

The minister of municipalities will advise on all matters of expenditure and the fees charged, and generally on all matters of maintenance and management, or upon the exercise of any powers vested in the board.

They will provide a schedule of fees proposed to be charged and the method of collection. No levy can exceed two mills in the dollar in municipalities, or two cents in areas where taxes are levied on acreage basis. No tax shall be levied on the basis of the population. MEADOW CREEK NOTES

Mrs. Fred Webber, and her young son, daughter, Cecil, have come to spend the summer with Mrs. A. G. Gifford, and Mrs. John Thompson, her daughters. She gives a favorable report of the Grand Prairie country. Mrs. Webber and family were formerly residents on the creek, and many friends will welcome her return. Miss A. M. McFarlane spent the week with her parents. She is the first of the Meadow Creek school pupils to become a teacher, and has been teaching at Schaffer for the past month. She is a success as a teacher, and her pupils would be very sorry to lose her.

Mr. King's threshing outfit is still on Mr. Beld's. It seems his machine is too large for the job.

Mr. Richard Austin has bought a new Ford Model T car. He is taking of running two threshing outfits this fall.

Mr. Clyde Puckler is talking of selling his car. Anyone wanting a good car had better speak to him.

The Meadow Creek people are very sorry to learn that our old postmaster is leaving in soon. However, we must make the best of our new postmaster, and hope he will prove as trustworthy as the old one.

Meadow Creek school is the subject of the Easter Exam. Teacher and pupils.

The ranchers are busy at present taking care of feed cattle. The local stock is very tight this winter. The goods brought to Mr. C. Hooper are to be sold in Granum shortly. Anyone wanting good goods would do well to attend the sale.

Mr. Ferdinand Seymour is expected home very shortly. It will be remembered that he joined the "Mounties" about a year ago. He is coming back to the farm now, however, to grow bread for the empire.

Mrs. Hainz will return to the "household" early in April.

TEST YOUR SEED GRAIN

The department of agriculture wishes to urge upon the farmers of the province the necessity of testing seed grain for germination. A glance at the figures from the district seed testing laboratories in the province shows farmers' seed is being tested, is convincing proof of this necessity. Numbers of samples of oats have been forwarded to these laboratories which germinate, in the case of oats as low as 17 per cent, in wheat 25 per cent, and in barley 26 per cent. The appearance of a sample of oats is as good as its germinating power. Oats which weigh up to forty-five pounds per bushel and appear perfectly bright and plump, may germinate very low. The external of the wheat and barley is a better indicator, but should not be relied upon.

Some of the grain has been tested this year by the local seed testing laboratories and the results are as follows: The results of the tests show that the grain is of a very poor quality. The results of the tests show that the grain is of a very poor quality. The results of the tests show that the grain is of a very poor quality.

SCHOOL NOTES

Much to the satisfaction of the teachers and the great joy of the pupils, the Easter examinations are over, a fact which doubtless means that no more homework will be done until after the holidays. The Post, returned veteran of the 3rd battalion, gave the pupils a very interesting talk on his experiences in Flanders, in the school auditorium last Friday. He is a speaker of great ability in placing the life of the trenches before his audience and the pupils were delighted with the lecture on the work done by the men in the front line and those in reserve during attacks and in times of quiet along the front.

The Easter attempts at art in the form of Easter postcards are sure to bring credit upon our artists, who by the way, may be noted by their rapid and talented work.

To say that these dust and wind storms inconvenienced the teachers and pupils to any great extent may not be exactly truthful but an attempt to discover that in other words, to dig out their smiling mouths from under their noses in reflection, actually.

and irrigation in the community. Just before exams, dear mother, I am feeling with "A Curs for the Easter examinations are over, I have studied very subjects, and I've still got more to do. I have studied all the night long, and I'm studying now, you bet. And I hope all this time soon. It's thirty-five I'll likely get."

William P. Tait, former president of the United States, said the day that war would be declared was ten days and that with the United States adding the allies the war would end in a year.

Battle-Scarred French Baron
Relates His Experience
At the Front

On a visit to the United States to recuperate from wounds received in some of the bloodiest battles of the European war, Baron H. de Mallaussene, up to a few weeks ago an adjutant in the French army, is making a few days' sojourn in Omaha while en route to Denver, where he will stay until he has regained fully his strength.

He is accompanied by his wife, a former Des Moines, Ia., girl—Miss Maud Berthé—who met the baron while she was visiting in Paris. They were married in the French capital September 23, 1911, and were living on their estate—Rockbourne—near Aix-en-Provence, at the outbreak of the war.

Following the example of every patriotic Frenchman, Baron de Mallaussene repudiated to his country's call and joined the colors. As an adjutant under the tri-color he participated in some of the tinnest struggles that are familiar to readers of European war news.

The baron fought in the battle of the Marne, the battle of the Fries and took an active part in the gigantic struggle at La Boisselle. He also fought in both battles at Arras, France, one on May 9 and the other on June 16. He was severely wounded in the mouth in the latter battle and in the foot at Fries.

Baron de Mallaussene won the Decoration for Conspicuous Bravery on the Field of Battle and the Citation to the Order of the Brigade No. 28, the latter honor being conferred for saving into a German trench under heavy machine gun fire and bringing prisoners back to the French lines.

The baron has two brothers at the front at the present time. One, when being Colonel de Mallaussene a commanding officer in the First regiment of artillery and in charge of seventy-five fire pieces.

Two of his cousins were killed in France on the field of battle and another lost both legs.

"Ah, my friend, a person who hasn't been in that terrible war cannot conceive of its horrors," the baron remarked as a faraway look came into his eyes.

When asked if he was going to take his place in the trenches again when he returned to France, the battle-scarred veteran gazed wistfully at his interviewer for a moment and replied: "Certainement, m'sieu. As if a Frenchman would think of doing anything else."

The baron speaks English fluently, as does his wife, his husband's native tongue.

At the Rex Theatre, Clareholm, on Thursday, April 5th.

Armada

Two of Wilkie Collins' novels will be read as long as the public maintains its interest in the English novel. One is "The Moonstone," a story of mystery the other is "Armadale," a story of the conflict of a rightful and an adopted heir. The former story was filmed some time ago, but it remained for the Gaiety Company to put "Armadale" on the screen. This has done in a conscientious manner, selling the story in three reels crowded with such breathless incidents as only Wilkie Collins can create.

This will be shown at the Rex Theatre on Wednesday, April 4th.

J. A. Henderson's sale last week was probably the most successful sale that has been held this spring. Everything brought record prices. The highest price paid for one team of horses was $600.00 and the lowest was for a colt sold to R. E. Moffat for $12.50.

Dr. Toly and other prominent men are expected to speak at the College closing exercises on Friday of this week.

J. North, of Parkland, has taken a position with the Dominion Government, and is now in Spokane securing help for the farmers for the coming summer.

A report has been received that Donald Mason, who used to live in the Meadow Creek district, was killed by a fall from his aeroplane when taking his first flight.

Mr. J. E. Moffatt will be moving out to the farm this spring. Town life has lost its attractions and the call of the prairie has proved too strong to resist.

A letter was received some time ago which was overlooked, acknowledging the receipt of $18.50 from the Cut Bank School for the Belgian Relief Fund.

Last week's sale this spring will be next Saturday April 7th at Vanhorn's livery barn. All are No. 1 work horses. Sale starts at 2 p. m. A. E. Strange is the Auctioneer.

The Economy barn has received its annual cleaning and whitewashing, and now looks like a new barn. Farmers can rely on receiving the very best attention at this up-to-date livery.

Mr. Seavey, the horse trainer and proprietor of the Economy barn, received a very valuable mare that thought was the champion kick of Alberta. After one lesson Mr. Seavey was able to return her to her owner, thoroughly cured of the habit, and worth $100 more.

"Peggy O'Moore" will be here next Tuesday, at the Opera House. This is one of the best that has been presented to a Claresholm audience and deserves a large audience. It is said to be one of the clearest and most beautiful plays ever offered to the public.

An amusing incident occurred in the Presbyterian Sunday school last Sunday, when a small boy stampeded the whole class of 20 children. Looking out of the window he saw a rabbit on the side of the road and called out "Oh, look at the rabbit!" Immediately the whole class rushed to the window, much to the consternation of the teacher.

Sgt. Leo Brown, son of Mr. Brown of Parkland, in a letter to his father says he is not badly wounded, and reports that he is receiving fine treatment in a hospital in England. Leo was repairing the barbed wire entanglements in front of the trenches when a German sniper shot him, the bullet entering his jaw (breaking it) and lodging in the left shoulder. His address is King George Hospital, Stanforth, E. S. England.

The sale of home cooking announced by the ladies of the Church of England for Easter Saturday has been postponed to April 21.

A lantern lecture will be given in St. John's Parish hall next Wednesday by Rev. John Phoenix. The subject will be "Palestine."
